

What is the course about?

This course introduces the fundamentals of podcast production, including how to create engaging audio content and distribute it to your intended audience. You will learn essential techniques to improve the quality of your recordings and enhance overall production value. The course is ideal for anyone looking to take greater control over their audio or even video content, and is especially suited to aspiring podcasters who want to develop and refine their audio creation skills.

Why should I choose the course?

If you want to learn how to produce and share high-quality podcasts, this course provides the essential skills and techniques to get you started. Whether you're new to podcasting or looking to improve your audio production, it offers practical, hands-on experience to help you create professional-sounding content and reach your audience with confidence.

What will I learn?

The course will demonstrate the potential for creating and enhancing podcasts, as well as distributing them effectively.

You will learn:

- Podcast foundations and planning
- Professional recording techniques
- Editing and enhancing audio using Audacity
- Publishing your podcast
- Strategies for growing your audience

The tutor will informally assess your progress, and you will also self-assess your weekly development.

What will the course lead on to?

After completing this course, you may progress to another short course.

Whether you're looking to upskill, work toward a promotion, explore a pathway to university, or simply meet new people, there's something for everyone.
