What is the course about?

On this exciting and innovative one-year course you can let your creative juices flow and express your imagination through a range of artistic disciplines. You will be introduced to a broad range of art and design processes and techniques, allowing you to experiment with your new skills and interpret briefs with creative freedom. We collaborate with a number of local organisations to give you the opportunity to work on exciting live briefs and exhibitions.

This course is accredited by University of the Arts London (UAL) and the qualification you will achieve is the Level 1 Diploma in Art, Design and Media.

Why should I choose the course?

The creative industry is one of the fastest growing industries in the UK, generating more than £100 billion a year to the UK economy and employing more than two million people. This means there are lots of exciting career opportunities in this market. This creative course will enable you to develop skills and knowledge within a variety of art and design disciplines, allowing you to progress on to a level 2 creative course. After this, you could seek employment within this varied sector or progress on to a specialist arts university. We have excellent industry links, including key partnerships with the Tate and Culture Warrington. This enables us to create 'live' briefs, written in collaboration with our partners, providing you with a real life insight into the creative industries and employment opportunities within them.

What will I learn?

This course offers you the opportunity to explore a wide range of creative disciplines including drawing, painting, printing-making, textiles, 3D sculpture, photography, and creative digital skills. You will take part in exciting projects such as creating your own artwork, designing and making in a wide range of media and materials, as well as learning more about historical and contemporary artists to inspire your practice and enhance your research skills.

What will the course lead on to?

After successfully completing this course, you will have the skills and knowledge needed to progress on to related level 2 and level 3 courses, which can then lead to opportunities to study at university or seek employment in the industry. Our students progress on to a wide range of creative arts career pathways and job roles including art therapy, film and television, interior design, architecture, illustration, animation, theatre and prop design, self-employed designer/maker, teacher, games designer, textiles designer, product designer, community artist, jeweller, art historian, art development officer, curator and even merchandising.

Are there any links with industry and university?

This forward-thinking course works with numerous practicing artists, including our own artist in residence. Our tutors have a vast range of experience in the industry across disciplines including fine art, fashion and textiles, sculpture, creative digital skills, and photography. You will also have the opportunity to take part in guest lecture workshops with employers, as well as completing live briefs with our key partners, Tate and Culture Warrington.

To maximise your artistic potential, you will carry out a work placement in a field of your choice. Past students have undertaken enriching roles at galleries within Warrington Museum, or even put their practical skills to the test at venues such as Castle Fields Arts Centre, enhancing their communication, teaching and problem-solving skills.

You will also have the opportunity to take part in competitions, with previous students taking home a variety of coveted titles in the past. You will also be able to exhibit your own work in popular venues, which will look great on your UCAS application and even on your CV.

What support is available?

You will be allocated a progress coach who will provide you with support to help you succeed on your study programme and progress on to your chosen career or progression path. We have a team of staff dedicated to providing learning support if required, as well as a Welfare Team that is on hand to offer guidance, support and help when needed.

Additionally, eligible students can access a wide range of finance and funding support to help them during their time at college.
