What is the course about?

If you are looking to broaden the range of holistic therapies you offer or are interested in this field and want to get more experience, this course is perfect for you. Throughout this course you will be able to experience providing and receiving therapies with professional guidance.

Why should I choose the course?

If you have an interest in holistic therapies and would like to gain the skills needed to perform a range of treatments, this course is ideal for you. This course will allow you to perform and receive therapies with professional guidance and gain experience before completing a full qualification. The course is also suitable if you have some experience in holistic therapies and are looking to broaden the range of holistic treatments you provide. The course is also applicable if you want help with relieving and dealing with stress, if you are interested in preventative healthcare, or if you want to add to your health and social skills. Giving a holistic treatment meets all five NHS criteria for mental wellbeing. The course may also be useful as evidence of practice in social care for relevant courses and careers.

What will I learn?

This hands-on class explores holistic therapies through easy practical steps. On this course, you will:

- Gain knowledge through massage techniques for the use of massage to help the digestive system and the endocrine system through back passage
- Practice and perform precautions and giving luxury treatment to one person following guidelines for the digestive system
- Practice and perform up to three crystal therapies on supporting the digestive system
- Perform and practice two simple foot massages using reflexology in conjunction with the digestive system
- Practice and perform two simple aromatherapy treatments and make one product to use in massage and for personal use.

If you would like more information on the learning outcomes, please email ACLenquiries@wvr.ac.uk
